

FAIRFAX COUNTY POLICE DEPARTMENT

ACTIVITY REPORT

APRIL 23, 2010

ACTIVITIES REPORTED THROUGH APRIL 21, 2010

PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE -- 703-246-2253

There are three sections in this report: Section I: MAJOR INCIDENTS; Section II: PROPERTY CRIMES; and, Section III: ANIMAL RELATED INCIDENTS. Sections are appropriately identified. Within the sections, incidents are organized by station, then by type of offense. They are listed alphabetically by street address.

Addresses shown indicate blocks and not specific locations. Thus an entry showing Chain Bridge Road 4100 would mean the 4100 block of Chain Bridge Road, not the address 4100 Chain Bridge Road.

An asterisk (*) before an item indicates that a news release was distributed on that offense.

Section I: MAJOR INCIDENTS

COUNTYWIDE

FAIRFAX COUNTY POLICE FACEBOOK FAN PAGE/COMMUNITY ALERT

NETWORK: *The Fairfax County Police Department is launching new outreach tools; a Facebook Fan page and a new police emergency alert network. The Department encourages the public to help keep their families and neighborhoods safer by staying informed and aware. Coordinated by the Police Public Information Office, the agency launched a fan page on the social networking site juggernaut, Facebook on April 7. A variety of police information and announcements have been posted everyday since. So far, over 500 residents have joined the group. With over 400 million Facebook users nationwide, the networking site enables users to stay better connected to friends and the communities where they work and live. There is no cost to join Facebook, but to become a fan users must sign up at <http://www.facebook.com/fairfaxcountypolice>.

In partnership with the County's Office of Emergency Management, the public is also invited to sign up to receive police alerts on a variety of their electronic devices. A new public safety category on the Community Emergency Alert Network (CEAN) enables the police to send geographically targeted alerts, to include timely information on significant criminal incidents in neighborhoods and important announcements. There is no cost to sign up to receive the alerts and residents may sign up at <https://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/cean/>. New users may register using several addresses, such as their home, work, child's school or any others that may be of interest to them. Existing users may sign up for police alerts by editing their current profiles. Most police alerts will occur within minutes of an incident. Initial details of a criminal incident can be difficult to determine; follow-up messages of clarification may be necessary. Police ask that the public not take action on their own but to call 9-1-1, or follow the message's instruction, if they have vital information to report.

For more information on the police department, visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/police. Visitors are encouraged to visit the newsroom page to receive news releases via email and view police department YouTube videos. A newly designed television show about the police department "On the Beat" may be viewed on demand from the site as well.

BUSINESS COMPLIANCE CHECKS: *On Wednesday, April 14, officers from the McLean District Station Neighborhood Patrol Unit, conducted stings at several locations along Lee Highway and Arlington Boulevard in Fairfax County. The sting was part of the youth alcohol/business compliance enforcement campaign which was conducted using a county police cadet dressed in plain clothing to purchase alcohol. The cadet entered stores and attempted to purchase alcohol. If asked whether he was 21 years old, the cadet was to respond with his true age and/or date of birth. If asked for identification, he was to tell the clerk that he had no identification with him. If the sale of alcohol took place, the plain-clothed officer would take possession of the alcohol from the cadet and make the appropriate charge(s), along with the assistance of the uniformed officer assigned to the team. As a result of the sting operation, 20 locations were entered, with one arrest made for the illegal sale of alcohol to a minor. That offense occurred at the 7-Eleven located at 7222 Arlington Boulevard. The stings were conducted using one team consisting of one plain-clothed officer, one uniformed officer, and one cadet.
